About Reward's Broker Hub WhatsApp Channel

- Notifications are muted by default. To get notified about new updates, you can turn on notifications for each channel.
 - Open the channel, and click the Notification bell.
 - Grey bell with slash means notifications are turned off. Click to turn them on.
 - Grey bell without slash means notifications are turned on. Click to turn them off.
- Channels appear in a separate tab, so you can choose to look at them when you want.
- People viewing a channel can't see who is following a channel. Your profile information and interactions with channel content, like emoji reactions or poll votes, aren't visible to them. They can't see your name, phone number or profile picture.
- Channel admins can see your profile name and, depending on your privacy settings, might be able to see your profile photo next to emoji reactions or poll votes.
